Mapping Home

Understanding local heritage begins with you! As part of our Community within Communities project at Sefton CVS, we've put together a series of activities to help you think about all of the brilliant people and places around us. Once you have completed one or all of these activities, you can send them to us for our Historic Townships exhibition.
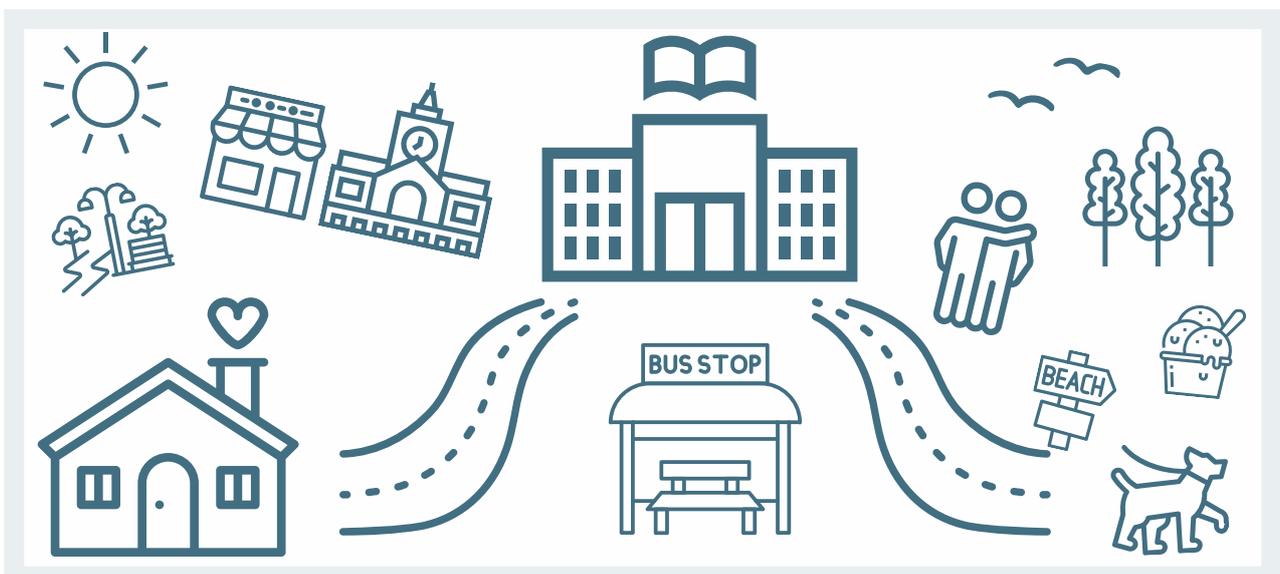

Our fourth activity focuses on creative mapping.

A map shows us how people, places and ideas connect. All you need for this activity is a pencil and a piece of paper, but you can use any materials you would like.

Think about things that are important to you in your local area (your road, town or the whole of Sefton). Your map does not have to be geographically accurate. If your local library is the most important thing to you, why not make it the largest drawing and put it in the middle?

For example:

Top Tips:

- Use some of our other activities to help you to decide what landmarks you want to include.
- Think outside the box! If you were showing somebody around your local area who had never been before, which special places would want to show them?
- Your map does not have to be time-specific. Is there a café that you loved visiting that is no longer open? You can draw anything you like, it is your map.
- Use a mixture of words and images to help show which places you are mapping.

Thank you for taking part! We hope you have enjoyed creating your own map of home.

Share Your Map

If you would like to see your map in our exhibition, please take a photograph of it or scan it to a computer and send us a copy using our online submission form: www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/HeritageSubmission

Alternatively, you can post it to the following address:
